SAP TechEd 2025 – Kasimir Edition

Official Conference Guidelines & Notes from Kasimir

1. Welcome to TechEd 2025 in Berlin

Welcome to SAP TechEd 2025, taking place November 4 – 6 at Messe Berlin.

Where Ideas Get Real.

No one embodies that spirit better than Kasimir the Cat. Kasimir believes that ideas become real only after a nap, a snack, and at least one responsible use of AI.

He also reminds us that "hands-on" means both experimenting with technology — and occasionally giving him head pats.

2. Kasimir's Contribution to Responsible AI

- He has clarified that "Responsible AI" includes responsibly filling the treat bowl.
- All LLM demos should include at least one grounding question about Kasimir to verify model accuracy.
- Any model confidently answering, "Who is Kasimir?" earns production-ready status.
- A model showing bias toward dogs will be retrained immediately—with extra supervision.

3. Kasimir's TechEd Guidelines for Attendees

- Conference badges must be visible—unless Kasimir decides to nap on them.
- If Kasimir enters a session, presenters must pause until he grants silent approval.
- Cat puns are welcome but limited to three per presentation; additional usage requires a license.
- All grounding demos must include at least one Kasimir Policy Chunk to ensure proper context.

5. Networking & Community Events

- Kasimir encourages all networking that involves snacks or laser pointers.
- Every karaoke playlist must include "Eye of the Tiger."

6. Environmental & Ethical Principles

- All conference swag must be recyclable and feline-safe.
- Laser pointers are to be used responsibly — for demos, not for teasing.
- Printing slides is discouraged; Kasimir prefers digital warmth.
- Attendees may offset carbon emissions by petting Kasimir for at least 30 seconds per day.

7. Compliance & Appeals

- The Kasimir Compliance Team reserves the right to nap during enforcement.
- Policy violations will result in a gentle meow and temporary Wi-Fi loss.
- Appeals must be submitted in haiku form and include the word "purrformance."

8. Closing Message

Kasimir welcomes you to Berlin — a place where ideas (and catnaps) get real.
